

Farm Stress Resources by Soy State
National Farm Stress Resources for U.S. and Canada
May 1, 2022

#SoyHelp

South Dakota

Avera Health Services

- For 24/7 support, call the Farm and Rural Stress Hotline at 1-800-691-4336 or the National Suicide Hotline at 1-800-273-8255.
- The Farm and Rural Stress Hotline is available to farmers, ranchers, residents of rural communities, and their families.
- When you call, an online operator will take inventory of your needs and direct you to local mental health care, which may include talk therapy and/or medication management. You can call anonymously, and your insurance will not be notified.

South Dakota State University

Farm Stress Page from SDSU Extension

South Dakota Suicide Prevention

- Access SDSP for targeted resources, including C-19's effects on mental health.
- Resources for suicide prevention help on SDSP here, including Lifeline chat.

Helpline Center

- The Helpline Center produces annual resource guides listing behavioral health providers to help with professional, emotional and personal stressors in the Sioux Falls Mental Health Guide.
- You can also access the 211 Database from the Helpline Center in order to search for resources. The 211 database is a central access point for information and referrals on nonprofit, social service and government agencies in South Dakota. The database contains more than 10,000 social, governmental, non-profit and faith-based services available across South Dakota.

South Dakota Council of Mental Health Centers

- Offering counseling services, adult therapy groups and educational workshops. Learn more. Find South Dakota Community Mental Health Centers

South Dakota Counseling Services

- Farm Stress Resources

While these state resources and the following national resources are by no means exhaustive, ASA hopes they will be helpful in seeking qualified professional care.